ACTUAL INTER-TRIBAL WAR BEGUN.

The Strife Begins By the Attack of Anna People On Three Peaceful People-A Big Loss for Samoan Warfare-No Peaceful Settlement of the Political Differences On the Islands Arrived At, etal Correspondence to the Associated, Press.

APIA, SAMOA, March 28 .- In the past few weeks all hope of peace being maintained here is dissipated, and much Samoan blood has again been When the Aana people submitted their chiefs to a trial before Chief Justice Ide, with a view to the settlement of political differences it was thought that a peaceful method of dealing with the inter-tribal trouble had been found. But on the 10th instant the two parties came to actual warfare.

The firing was started by some Anna people firing upon three men who were quietly gathering food. One of the people Bring upon three men who were quietly gathering food. One of the men was killed, and according to the Samoan custom, instantly decapitated. The firing brought more of the government supporters to the rescue and a sharp skirmish ensued, resulting in one of the rebels being killed and six wounded. Several of the government party were wounded.

On the following Monday an attack was made upon the rebel camp, but the government supporters were driven back losing four men and having a large number of wounded, while the rebels escaped without loss. Matters remained fairly quiet for about a week after this, until Monday, the 19th, when quite a large engagement (for Samoan warfare) took place, ending in the complete defeat of the rebels who lost ten or twelve men and had a large number of wounded. The loyalist lost about the same number and their list of wounded was also very large. In the meantime the consuls paid a visit to the other end of the island and have evidently persuaded the dieaffected in that quarter to remain land and have evidently persuaded the disaffected in that quarter to remain quiet for a time but an outbreak on their part is daily expected.

Every Man on Board the Jennie M. Carter Supposed to Have Perished.

NEWBURYPORT, MASS., April 13.-The schooner Jennie M. Carter, Sullivan, Maine, for Philadelphia, with a cargo of paving stones, came ashore here to-day without a soul aboard and it is believed that the entire crew of six men has perished. When first seen her sails were in ribbons and her jibboom, bowsprit and foretop mast were gone. Her rudin ribbons and her jibboom, bowsprit and foretop mast were gone. Her rudder was also missing and the vessel was driving at the mercy of the terrible seast towards Sand Beach. In half an hour she struck and was soon pounding herself to pieces. When she was boarded after grounding no one was found aboard. She sailed from Providence and was owned by Captain Ober and others, of Sullivan, Me. It is possible that the crew of the vessel escaped in the boats and are safe, but the fishermen say a boat could not live in the storm of last night.
